

Dry Cleaning Is Play For Women

Put gasoline and solvents in a wash boiler and save $5. In an hour.

Ever dry clean at home? Well it's so easy, inexpensive and the results so pleasing you'll be surprised. Any woman can clean and renew the brightness of ribbons, satins, silks, laces, yokes, silk shirtwaists, kid gloves and shoes, furs, neckties, children's coats, suits, caps, towels, gowns, and children's dresses, fancy vests, veils, woolen garments, netting, draperies, rugs, in fact, anything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvents at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline where it quickly dissolves. Then put in the goods to be cleaned. Rub a little and out they come looking as bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

Any woman can do five dollars' worth of home dry cleaning in a few moments and you can't make a mistake. Your grocer or any garage will supply the gasoline and the drug store will sell you two ounces of solvents which is simply a gasoline soap. Then a wash boiler or large enamel pan completes your dry-cleaning outfit.

RECEPTION AT CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Preceded Sunday Observance of 75th Anniversary.

Preliminary to the Sunday observance of its 75th anniversary by the Central Baptist church, there was a reception at the church on Sunday morning from 8 to 10 o'clock, when a delightful social time was enjoyed by the resident church members and many guests. The rooms were decorated with autumn foliage and Swann's orchestra furnished the evening's music. Receiving with the pastor and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Slocum, were Rev. and Mrs. P. C. Wright of Philadelphia, Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Slocum of Newark, N. J., and Mrs. Clarence H. Slocum of Providence.

Under the direction of the reception committee, consisting of Mrs. Edward J. Messinger, Mrs. James D. Rough, Mrs. Bessie R. Grimes and Mrs. Henrietta Ruff, refreshments were served, while the general arrangements for the anniversary celebration were in charge of Shepard B. Palmer, Allen W. Brown, Mrs. J. B. Slocum, Mrs. Mitchell, with George A. Ashby, Joseph S. Adams and John P. Post as assisting a finance committee.

During the reception hours the redecorated auditorium of the church was thrown open for inspection and received the admiring comment of all present. The work of redecoration, repainting and refurbishing the auditorium had been going on through the summer under the direction of a committee which consisted of H. R. Church, chairman; Andrew B. Davies, Allen L. Brown, Charles R. Gallup, George W. Harrison, Mrs. Martha H. Mitchell, Mrs. Charles W. Gallup, Mrs. L. A. Gallup and Miss Alice M. Dean.

The Bible school of the church is to hold its special anniversary exercises this (Monday) evening.

The post office department is calling on all the surplus mail matter that can be disposed of for the holiday mail, and is having a large number of new mail sacks made for the dispatch of lightweight parcel post matter.

WOMAN WEAK, RUN-DOWN

Find Health in a Simple Tonic

People in Norwich will begin to believe us when we say that our delicious Vinol is a wonderful tonic and strength creator.

Here is another case where it has proved its wonderful power to overcome weak, run-down, nervous, anemic conditions.

"I was run-down, nervous, and could not do my work without being entirely exhausted, and would often faint without any apparent cause. The doctor said I was anemic but failed to help me. My husband brought home a bottle of Vinol and I began to improve after taking one bottle, and after taking four bottles it has built me up so I can do all my housework without help. I recommended Vinol to a neighbor, who says her doctor approves of it and said 'Vinol is a wonderfully good tonic.' Mrs. Bessie Hering, West Philadelphia, Pa.

We recommend Vinol to our customers as the greatest strength creator we know—due to the extractive medicinal elements of iron and vitamins, without oil, combined with peptonate of iron and beef peptonate, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine.

STATE PRISON FOR CONSPIRATORS

Louis Sternlieb, Samuel Golumb, Found Guilty by Jury—

Judge Williams Imposes Sentences of Varying Length—

Hyman Pollock Also Sent to Prison—Appeals Taken in Cases of Sternlieb and Golumb—Last Trial of Term and Court Adjourns Without Day.

The long trial of Louis Sternlieb and Samuel Golumb came to an end here on Saturday afternoon at 1:10 o'clock when the jury in the criminal superior court returned a verdict finding them guilty of conspiracy in trying to obtain evidence falsely against Dora Sternlieb, wife of Louis, to be used to secure a divorce.

It is understood that a number of ballots had to be taken by the jury until agreement was finally reached and they stood in line for conviction from the first time a ballot was taken. Frank S. Palmer was the foreman.

When the court came in on Saturday morning Judge Williams took the bench and after they retired to the jury room it was about 30 minutes before they returned and reported a verdict.

When court came in at 2 o'clock after the noon recess, State Attorney Hill moved for sentence in the conspiracy cases.

Attorney John C. Geary made a plea for leniency for Sternlieb and Golumb, suggesting that the punishment might be a fine. Attorneys H. H. Pettit and Thomas M. Shields spoke for leniency for Hyman Pollock, who had turned state's evidence in the case.

Major Hull argued that there was no reason for leniency and he spoke of the church's financial loss in the case. He said the other two men were not as culpable.

Judge Williams made the sentence for Sternlieb from three to five years in state prison, for Golumb from two to three years and for Pollock from one to two years. The last named has already been in jail eight months since his arrest, while the other two men have been out on bonds since they were brought before this term of the court on a bench warrant.

When the verdict was given by the jury Sternlieb's wife and his sister broke down and wept, and during the recess the three men were taken to jail after court adjourned.

Other Cases Disposed Of.

Nolles were entered in the cases of Peter J. Carberry and Clement Joubert. Carberry is now of Worcester and was accused of non-support. The accusation against Joubert was rape. State Attorney Hull told the court that the girl in the case had told different stories.

The case against Hyman Pollock and Dora Sternlieb in which adultery was alleged was nolle. It was Pollock's arrest in the morning of Feb. 10 when Pollock was found in Mrs. Sternlieb's apartments when the police entered that formed the basis for the conspiracy trial. Both Mrs. Sternlieb and Pollock denied any wrongdoing and subsequent investigation by the state attorney determined him to bring the conspiracy charge against Sternlieb and Golumb.

After the business of Saturday had been disposed of the court went out without day.

POWER OF JESUS TO DISPEL BLINDNESS

Can Be Shown in Man's Life, Says Rev. P. C. Wright.

A powerful address on Blindness was delivered by Rev. P. C. Wright of Philadelphia, former pastor of the Central Baptist church, at the men's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoon at 8:30 o'clock. The meeting was led by the general secretary, Edwin Hill, and opened with the singing of hymns. Rev. Wright offered prayer and then introduced Rev. Mr. Wright.

Rev. Mr. Wright read a part of the 8th chapter of St. John dealing with the restoring of sight to the blind man. The speaker said the trouble with religion these days is that we haven't the vital power of Jesus in our souls. Religion that doesn't come of experience is no religion. Rev. Mr. Wright said that what he wants in the church is men who are living. "If you are not living or are not as good as dead, you are dead," he said, "and you are worth nothing of your life."

Rev. Mr. Wright's talk was gripping and powerful and intense interest was shown in his words by the large number of men present. Swann's orchestra provided music during the service.

activities and after special preparation for this service are now successfully prosecuting their labors on the home mission fields in other states.

The trust funds for the benefit of the church which began to come into the possession of the church during the pastorate of Dr. Herr and were largely due to his influence were greatly increased during Dr. Wright's term of office and have proved of substantial benefit in the financial affairs of the church. A most important financial achievement was accomplished during this period in the raising of funds for clearing the church of the mortgage indebtedness which had proved a burden ever since the erection of the new building. This was consummated with the burning of the mortgage note January 16th, 1908.

A very important work inaugurated under the leadership of Mr. Wright was the "City Bible Class for Men" organized in 1911 which under his inspiration has grown to large proportions. The attendance at times being over 200. In this class which is still a very important factor in our Bible school are found men of many nationalities, from various walks of life.

COMPENSATION LAW AGREEMENTS MADE.

so suddenly called him home, as was also the case with Deacon B. G. Smith, we immediately thought of Enoch as he "Walked with God and was not for God took him."

Can any of us forget the saintly life of Enoch? He was a man of God and a man of peace. He was a man of God and a man of peace. He was a man of God and a man of peace.

During the early days of the present work, our hearts were rejoiced in the gathering of a large number of young people also a goodly number from our Italian work and the opportunity for a large work is within our province.

During this period of twenty-five years the additions to the church numbered 763—489 by baptism and the loss in numbers 533—232 being by death. Over $200,000.00 has passed through the channels of the church treasury and many of these having been used for benevolent purposes.

Pillars of the Church

As suggested at the beginning of this report, the earnest devoted lives of so large a company have entered into the splendid history of this church for the past twenty-five years and many of these Christian lives whose parts were so faithfully taken will never be mentioned in history, there are those whose prominence cannot be omitted and who cannot refrain from mentioning some of them.

Through all the trying times of financial need when pressing problems were confronting us how often did our honored brother, L. W. Carroll rise to the occasion with his inspiring counsel as he would say, "Brothers, we have seen worse times than these and have always come out all right and we will now, and we always will."

How devoted in his care of the church property, how very faithful in

The styles as they are now arriving from New York show the settled modes of the season and are developed along the conservative and practical lines which are becoming a more prominent feature every week.

Suits for Women and Misses from $17.50 up

Charming models in Gabardine, Whipcord, Poplin and Serge, many of the coats being flared from the waist line and some with the high skin collar of fur. The most pleasing of the skirts show the side pleats or have quite a pronounced flare. Among the newer colorings are African brown, Russian green, field mouse and the old standbys, navy and black.

Dainty Dresses from $12.98 up

Cleverness is expressed in every line of these pretty dresses in which combinations of velvet and silk have been used most effectively. Taffetas, Crepe de Chine and Charmeuse being the favorites. In some of the models fur is used in the trimming with strikingly good results.

A Wide Range of Designs in the New Coats

Plaids, Tweeds, Mixtures and solid colors, all have been used with excellent result in the new coat styles which this season has brought out. The Raglan sleeve is still shown although the regular set-in style is more prominently featured. The flaring coats are very swaggy and have caught the popular fancy as they are very adaptable.

his attendance at the services, how wise in his counsel, how exemplary in his life and sacrifices was Welcome A. Smith. Very few if any can appreciate the amount of thought, time and labor which Deacon L. A. Gallup as treasurer gave to this church and today as we refer to the records in many of its departments we can all most heartily praise him. As our heretofore real in their lives. As our heretofore real in their lives. As our heretofore real in their lives.

that of Miner G. Clark, which Mr. Wright said he believed was unsurpassed in its strength of glory. Of Rev. John Davies he said that perhaps a church never had in all its history so popular a pastor. He loved his people and came to the pulpit with a heart full of love for them. Rev. Dr. J. B. Slocum, the speaker mentioned as a man of far more than ordinary ability, with clearness of vision, of firmness and aggressiveness and the ability to lead. To these who went before, Christ was a reality and the things of faith and eternity were real in their lives. As our heretofore real in their lives. As our heretofore real in their lives.

Thanked the Orchestra.

After the school orchestra had rendered another selection, thanks for their services was shown by a rising vote.

Two Letters Read.

President Case read two letters of congratulation, one from Charles F. Setchell, now resident in Denver, who was former superintendent of the school, and the other from Rev. Charles A. Boyd, president of the Vermont Sunday School association. He was formerly assistant superintendent of the Central school.

After prayer by Rev. M. Joseph Twomey, the exercises closed with an orchestral selection.

BIBLE SCHOOL HOUR

Greetings and Letters of Congratulation—Mayor Murphy Speaks for the City—Attendance of 618, New Record.

The Bible school hour which followed the church service was given up to a special programme in which greetings were presented and an announcement that the attendance at 618, which overtopped all previous records of the school, which by the members on its roll. The best previous record was 501.

The City Bible Class for Men played an important part in the service. The attendance figures, as it had 181 men present.

Swann's orchestra furnished music for the service and a vote of thanks and there were addresses by Rev. P. C. Wright and Rev. M. Joseph Twomey.

Gift of Hymn Books.

Before the school sang the first hymn, Superintendent James L. Case, who presided called attention to the new hymn books and Henry A. Covey of the Baptist Young People's Union of the Baptist Young People's Union made the formal presentation of 300 of them in the name of the Young People's Union.

Congratulatory Addresses.

A group of four congratulatory addresses followed, beginning with Mayor T. C. Murphy, who said he deemed it an honor and it surely was a pleasure to represent the city on this occasion, and he believed that those who founded the church had built well for the city and had set a worthy example for their children. His honor recalled that the spot where the church edifice is now located was long one of the most unsightly places in the city, a ledge of rocks with blacksmith shop and a dilapidated ively stable nesting under the ledge. The mayor was applauded as he wished the school abundant success and prosperity in the future and congratulated them on the past.

Rev. H. J. Wyckoff, pastor of the Second Congregational church, and president of the County Sunday school association, brought the congratulations of the county association to the school. He said that just before he left his own school, which is this year to celebrate its 100th anniversary they had voted to send their congratulations to the school.

The Central school immediately voted a return message of similar import to be carried back by Rev. Mr. Wyckoff to the Second church school.

General Secretary Edwin Hill of the Young Men's Christian Association Association brought the congratulations of that organization and presented to Superintendent Case two roses, a white one and a red one, emblemizing the virtues of purity and love and unity which characterized the school.

Robert Darling of Himsbury, president of the Connecticut Sunday school association, brought the greetings of what he said was part of the greatest army that would have ever been organized, he said, of the spirit of love and unity which characterized the school.

The Living Present.

In opening his address Rev. Dr. Gallup referred to the great honor he felt it was for the sons of the church to be invited to participate in these services, himself the representative of four generations who have been associated with the church. The living present is alive because the past has been so well cared for. No church could have produced such men as Morgan Safford, Welcome A. Smith, Deacon A. T. Otis, James P. Collins and Edward P. Ray without the living church. The building of this church was an event in the religious life of this city, a temple of God erected with faith and with certainty that it could be fully utilized, but soon requiring additions. But the present is the best day you have ever known because it is the day of our opportunity. Into this opportunity of the present join all the characteristics of this church and we are partners and co-workers with Almighty God.

Sends Message to Mrs. O. A. Kinney.

At the suggestion of Dr. Slocum the congregation expressed by a viva voce a message of love and prayerful interest and affection to be sent to Mrs. Orlene A. Kinney, widow of Dr. Gallup, whose failing health prevented her attendance at the anniversary.

Dr. Slocum also read a letter of greeting to the church from the officers of the Preston Bible school.

The Opening Future.

Before the next address, which was upon The Opening Future, and was delivered by Rev. M. Joseph Twomey, the officers also united in singing the hymn I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord.

When first he stood in this house more than 25 years ago, said Rev. Twomey, he had never thought that this would be one of the honors accorded him. Futures are uncertain, but are also ordained by the things we cannot control, but the predetermined lies within ourselves. He mentioned the names of the members of the church whom he had known and asked what will their sons and daughters give us. Our past history ought to mean a future more glorious than any we could have planned. Three things, the speaker said, there were which would make our future great, a larger part in our timetable for Christian education, a greater evangelism, and a more confident faith in the power of God. The faith of our fathers looked to our day and to the future beyond us, and we shall bring forth a larger and a
